After being a Bluegrassband for a couple of years, Handsome Hank and his Lonesome Boys band specialized on the Countryfication of well known Rock and Pop classics. The response was very well, even Rock celebrities such as Slash, Lemmy Kilmister and Frank Farian patted the band's head. The first CD Greatest Hits (East/West, Warner Germany) is a classic on its own, the cover version of Black Hole Sun had a world wide radio airplay. The band was touring in Germany, Austria, Switzerland and France. Now, after a bunch of years, it's time for Handsome Hank to take off with the single Angel and a brand new album entitled sings about devils and angels. It's a nice collection for a cross over audience, that shows many aspects of Country Music and has a great pop appeal, too.

It's a duet album, that brought together many well-respected artists such as Heidi Happy, Endo Anaconda, Erika Stucky and others.
